Dear Parishioner and Gentle Reader,

What might appear to be strange instructions that Jesus gives his disciples in today's Gospel before he sends them out in pairs were intended to counteract practices that were then common, whereby bogus preachers used preaching as a mask for making money. Jesus is very specific - "take nothing for the journey except a staff". The disciples are to stay wherever they are welcomed, so they can't be choosy about their lodgings. Simplicity is the key - no baggage, no luxuries, no distractions...

Some years ago, there was a programme on American television, where three or four people were given trolleys in a supermarket and allotted a certain amount of time to fill them with groceries. The winner was decided as the one who had the highest bill at the checkout. A whistle blew, and the stampede began! They bumped into each other, items missed the trolley as they were thrown from a distance and other items were discarded in favour of more expensive discoveries. When the whistle blew, they made their way to the checkout. As they waited, they looked into each other's trolleys and saw things they had missed and were annoyed at some of the stupid choices they had made.

We could replay that scenario again, except this time one of the people is a committed Christian. We have the whistle, the stampede and the same again except that our Christian friend acts differently. He strolls along at his ease and puts in some bread, milk and sugar. He picks up an item that fell from one of the other trolleys and puts it back on the shelf. At the final whistle they arrive at the checkout. Our friend gets everybody's attention - the reaction is one of puzzlement, anger and mockery. One of them says, "Who let you out? Did nobody tell you what this is about? Why are you so laid back? Why didn't you go for it like the rest of us?" The young man smiles and replies, "My father owns the supermarket".

Being aware of who we are and what we are, as children of God, should make a difference to the way we make our pilgrim journey through this world.

With every blessing, Monsignor Colum.

Annual Blessing of Graves

Unfortunately, the current Covid-19 restrictions do not permit large gatherings of people. Therefore, I am planning to bless privately all graves in each of the three cemeteries in Beragh parish during the week beginning Monday 16th August. In the meantime, I would encourage parishioners to begin tidying their family plots in the usual way.

Sick and Housebound

I am grateful to a number of parishioners who asked me to visit family members or people within their area, who have been sick or housebound because of the pandemic. I am always happy to attend such people and administer the Sacraments in their own homes, mindful of the need to exercise the usual protocols.
